AMONG the passengers coming in on Monday's train were six from Ontario, two from British Columbia, one from Nova Scotia, one from California, eleven from Kansas, nine from Illinois, six from Virginia, three from Minnesota, three from Washington Territory and five from Norway.

MR. SWANSON, immigration agent has returned to Ottawa and reports favorably on the condition of settlers. A liabellous statement appearing in a Swedish paper at St. Paul, relative to Alberta has been denied by the letters of 26 Sweeds, so that instead of harm being done, good will result.

A PARTY of new arrivals from Kansas, consisting of J. A. Bauer, James Milly, Roy McGregor, E. Postle, Wakefield county; John Milly, Industry county; Geo. Hackney, J. E. Lavery, Longford county; and Martin L. Mullen and J. G. Dippel, of Clay county, drove out to view the Beaver lake district on Tuesday. In visiting the gardens around town before starting they seemed greatly surprised at the productiveness of the soil.

MRS. EMMA SHAW COLCLEUGH is on her return trip from visiting the wilds of Northwestern Canada, where she has been to secure subject matter for her lecture on the unknown country of the Northwest. She is at present at Athabasca Landing waiting for conveyance to bring her to town. A letter received from her, dated Aug. 25th, closes thus, "I write this in great haste to send in by cart." Mrs. Colcleugh will deliver her lecture "Through Hawaii with a kodak," at various places on her way from Edmonton to Winnipeg. Should any societies or churches in town desire to make arrangements with her for lecturing here, we may state that she is registered at the Alberta.

THE gardens in town at the present time are looking excellent and are a sourc of wonder to the many new comers from the States to the south of us. Green corn has been a table delicacy at Mr. McDougall's for the past two weeks and a large number of gardens in town have their little patch. Musk mellons, grown out in the open at the Alberta garden measure 18 inches and have already been used on the table. A peck of ripe tomatoes were picked out of the same garden on Tuesday. Table cucumbers have been on the vines at Mr. Mortimer's since the last week in May, and a very large number of squashes have been cut from his garden. At present there are several measuring from 25 to 32 inches in circumference. Mr. Marriaggi has celery eight inches of which is nicely bleached, and as for cabbages, cauliflowers, potatoes, onions or roots, why! a look at Donald Ross's will compare with any garden anywhere. In flowers, we may say that a sunflower at Mr. Clarke's measures 13 inches in diameter and 37 inches in circumference.

A MEETING for discussing the ways and means of building a chapel and school for the R. C. church S. Edmonton will he held on Saturday.

B. store at Providence, and children, Mrs Christie, wife of Mr. Christie, accountant of the McKenzie River district for the H. B. Co. Mr. Hodgins of Fort Rae. Mrs Emma Shaw Colcleugh, lady correspondent of the Boston Transcript, travelling through the McKenzie and Athabasca regions and Bishop Girouard of Providence.

A LETTER from Mr. Brunelle, in reference to the illustration in the "War Cry" sent to us for publication in last issue was not inserted. This was not because we did not wish to publish it; but because Capt. Green of the S. A. also forwarded us a letter for publication in the same issue in which she regretted the error and promised to have it rectified at the earliest possible moment. Not wishing to incur animosity between two religious sects and thinking Mr. Brunelle would, when he saw the captain's letter, accept the explanation, we refrained from publishing his.

J. CARLTON left for the north yesterday evening taking with him a large trading outfit. Mr. Carlton is a gold prospector more than a trader or a trapper and on this journey has made up his mind to explore to the Arctic circle visiting the small gold streams and creeks wherever he travels. There are only about two months in the year when placer mining can be successfully mined, hence a digging must yield $20 a day to be at all lucrative. As soon as winter sets in and prospecting ceases, he falls back upon trapping and works his way to a point where the winter can be put in, Along many of the creeks the ground is caked with frost all the year round.

A boy mounting a bay cayuse in front of J. Cameron's store yesterday afternoon, used a short whip to start the broncho off. This startled H. Long's team which was standing near the crossing and before Mr. Long could get out of the store they were off. Mr. Cameron's horse was standing in a single rig near the store. The team ran into it and upset it causing the horse to drag the upturned rig as far as it could in the direction of the Cliff. About the same moment they dashed into H. Edmiston's team which was tied to a post opposite J. Gibbon's, ran the shaft into the shoulder of one of Edmiston's horses severing one of the arteries, at the same time breaking the tie rein and causing the team to run away. Cameron's horse was stopped at the hill and Edmiston's team were stopped at the back of Sutter & Dunlop's; but Long's team ran towards the 4ft fence enclosing Larue & Picard's yard. This, they both jumped over but the waggon following, broke the fence down and here they were stopped. Some horses in Larue & Picard's yard took fright at the unexpected appearance of the team and they scampered off. Fortunately the damage sustained was not serious. Dr. McInnis was on hand to sew up the artery of Edmiston's horse in time to save its life. Mr. Cameron's rig was slightly damaged and the tongue of Edmiston's rig was smashed. Otherwise no damage was done.

MR. RUDOLPH BACH, newspaper correspondent for the Landwirthschaftliche Presse, a German agricultural paper, also the New Yorker Staats Zietung, the Cologne Gazette and two Berlin newspapers, is staying at the Alberta. The object of his visit is to write from personal experience of the capabilities this country presents for German immigration. He is of the opinion that most of the accredited German immigration is not German at all, but from neighboring states speaking the German language. The class of farmers Mr. Bach represents are the ryotwery of the country; men who have been accustomed to farming since their adolescence, but who through the fall in markets and the demands of the zemindary, are unable to till the land at a profit. This class of farmers would arrive here with from $3,000 to $4,000 per family, and would be in a position to begin farming properly. This is the only class of farmers that Mr. Bach purposes recommending to come out here. The field there is now too crowded and the German government recognizes the necessity of a suitable field for emigration. Having no colonies of their own except in South Africa, which is an undesirable field, the German government is very favorable to the British colonies, where her citizens are assured protection of life and property. Mr. Bach will visit Regina and Prince Albert on his return and also take a trip over the Manitoba and Northwestern railroad. He has already visited southern Manitoba and British Columbia and reports some good settlements of progressive agriculturists in southwestern Manitoba. Along the main line the crops were short and had suffered from drouth, and in British Columbia he thought nothing but mining could be done at a profit and that would require a good deal of capital. At Edmonton he sees a varied country of bush and prairie, hill and dale, forest and stream, and expresses himself in glowing terms of the beauty of the district and is an agreeable change to the monotonous prairie. Mr. Bach is visiting Stony Plain to-day and purposes returning as far as Leduc in the morning.

MR. BREMNER has had a pretty pair of Cariboo horns in the velvet mounted by Mr. Martin.

METHODIST tea meeting and concert at S. Edmonton, Tuesday. Rev. Mr. Glass will be there

MISS SEGARS, who has been on a visit to her father Capt. Segars of the S. S. Athabasca, is in town.

ANNIVERSARY services of the S. Edmonton Methodist church will be conducted by Rev. Leo Gaetz on Sunday.

MUSICAL meeting of the S. A. on Saturday night; banquet on Monday. After banquet a sale of gifts.

In the shooting match, Scots vs Canadians at Fort Saskatchewan on Friday afternoon the Scots won by 24 point.

THE school by-law was voted upon yesterday and defeated by a majority of 11. The vote stood 38 for and 49 against.

BISHOP GIROUARD of Providence was a visitor in town on Monday. He made a very short stay and hastened back to catch the Athabasca on her return trip. He came down for some small pieces of machinery for the new boat the mission is building. He says "we will have our own whistle blowing on the lakes next year if not this."

IN Thursday's issue we stated that "the lumber from the yard lately conducted by Mr. Osborne was being moved to the corner of Jasper Avenue where Messrs Hetu & Dorais will conduct it in future." We should have said that Mr. Osborne was handing over a consignment of lumber belonging to Chave & Co. and Messrs Hetu & Dorais will conduct that business. Mr. Osborne will continue in business at his old stand and is putting in a new stock of lumber of his own.

THE government engineer arrived at White Fish lake Indian agency on August 21st. and repaired the steam engine ready for threshing this season's grain. This engine is used under the direction of Mr. Ross Indian agent, not only for threshing grain; but, in winter, for sawing wood and making flour. The crops this year are up to the average. Each Indian has put up his own hay, and all are well supplied with cattle. There is no sickness among them and the outlook is one of satisfaction and contentment.

OWING to the rain on Monday, the Citizen's band was unable to render its weekly programme at the band stand overlooking the river. The programme will be given to-morrow night when the following pieces will be played:-

FRANK OLIVER, — PROPRIETOR.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, AUGUST 30TH, 1894.

NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.

REGINA, August 21th.

Dill presented a petition from W. D. Perley and others asking for the passage of a bill to enable settlers in certain towships lying north of the Qu'Appelle river to grant a bonus to the proposed Wolseley and Fort Qu'Appelle railway.

Jelly from the committee appointed to enquire into the condition of agriculture in certain districts of the Territories reported that in parts of Assiniboia owing to crop failure by reason of drought, some of the settlers would require assistance during the coming winter, and that it was desirable that the matter should be brought to the attention of the minister of the interior by means of a deputation from the house.

The report was referred to the committee of the whole and after a lengthy discussion it was decided that Mr. Speaker, Ross and Mr. Neff of the executive committee should at once interview the minister of the interior, who was visiting Brandon, as to the intentions of the Dominion government on the subject. If the Dominion government after being made aware of the necessities of the case decided not to do anything in the way of assistance, it would become necessary for the Northwest government to divert some of the moneys which had been voted by parliament on the understanding that they were to be used for certain purposes from those purposes to form a relief fund.

Jelly moved for a return respecting the cost of the executive committee.

The bill to regulate traffic upon public bridges was read a third time. Also the bill amending the law regarding slander.

Haultain's amendments to the school ordinance were read a second time.

Neff's bill to provide for grants to agricultural societies on a basis of membership fees was read a second time.

Oliver opposed the second reading on the ground that the bill made the agricultural societies a specific charge upon the Territorial revenues without regard to other needs of the country. In some districts it might be more desirable to spend money in aid to agricultural societies rather than in public works, but in other publics works were the most pressing necessity and the total funds available were not nearly sufficient. To still further lessen these funds in such cases by specific grants to agricultural societies which were liberally aided by the Dominion government seemed to him a most objectionable principle.

The second reading was carried by a vote of 12 to 4.

Several bills were considered in committee of the whole and progress reported.

WEDNESDAY, August 22th.

Haultain from the standing orders committee reported favorably on several private bills

McKay moved the first reading of a bill to incorporate the parishes in the church of England diocese of Saskatchewan.

Lineham introduced a bill respecting the General Trust Co. of Canada.

Prince asked of the executive committee at what places and times the Normal Sessions for training of school teachers in the Territories will be held during next year.

Haultain replied that the matter had not yet been decided, but that sessions would be held at points throughout the Territories according to the number of applications for training received and the means at the disposal of the executive.

Clinkskill asked if legislation would be introduced to provide for the filling of vacancies in the executive should any occur after the next general elections.

Haultain replied that it was .

Mitchell introduced a bill respecting threshers liens.

Haultain laid on the table the return of proceeding of the council of public instruction asked for by Prince.

Mowat's bill to amend the butter and cheese association ordinance was read a second time.

The amendments to the school ordinance were considered in committee.

Oliver objected to section No. 2, which provided that in case of payments being due by school districts to teachers, the government grants are to be paid direct by the government to the teachers. This was in direct contradiction of the spirit of the ordinance which had made the district solely responsible to the teacher for his salary. By constituting the government the paymaster of the teacher it interfered in the relations which should probably subsist between trustees and teacher.

Haultain said that the amendment had been rendered necessary by the fact that in some cases trustees did not pay over to the teacher the grant when received; but devoted it to other purposes. The difficulties in the way of the teacher securing payment of his money by legal process was so great as to make the attempt practically useless. This seemed the most simple way of overcoming the difficulty.

Oliver said that if the facts were as stated the amendment only secured the teacher in 70 per cent of his salary and left him in the same position as at present regarding the 30 per cent paid by the district. If he could not afford to take legal proceedings to recover the whole of his salary he was much less likely to take legal proceedings to recover 30 per cent. of it. This would give still greater advantage than at present to slow paying districts. If the means did not at present exist whereby a teacher could readily collect his salary from the district employing him, it was the plain duty of the house to provide such means, and if such means were provided the only reason for the amendment given by the mover, would not exist.

The section was carried as introduced.

Dill introduced a bill to permit local aid to the Wolseley and Fort Qu'Appelle railway.

Haujain presented a draft of a reply to his honor's speech at the opening of the house.

Haultain's bill amending the law respecting chattel morgages was added to by allowing a general power of attorney to take such mortgages instead of requiring a special power of attorney for each case.

A number of bills were advanced a stage in committee of the whole.

THURSDAY, August 23rd.

Dill introduced a bill to amend the ordinance respecting unincorporated towns.

The bill respecting noxious weeds in municipalities was read a third time.

Mitchells bill providing for threshers liens was defeated on second reading by 11 to 7.

Haultain's amendments to the school ordinance were considered in committee.

KeKay proposed that the five mile limit of school districts might be varied by the council of public instruction to provide for cases where land was cut off from the nearest school house by the physical features of the country.

Haultain agreed provided the occupants consented.

McKay drew attention to the necessity of an official audit of school accounts in many cases.

Betts introduced an amendment to require five trustees in school districts which inclosed more than an incorporated town, as well as in those which only included the town.

During the consideration of the amendments to the prairie fire ordinance in committee of the whole, Haultain laid before the committee a suggestion as to relieving railway companies from liability for fire or damages in case fire escaped from their control while they were attempting to form fire breaks along their tracks. At the present time the federal railway act protected the companies from actions for damages on account of fires started by their engines, provided the engines came up to certain alleged safety requirements. They are only subject to the penalities provided by the Northwest ordinance. Supt. Whyte on behalf of the C. P. R. had declared the desire of his company to do everything possible to provide fire guards along the company's tracks, but to make an effectual fire guard it was necessary to burn a strip of grass on each side. The company was willing to comply with the provisions of the ordinance so as the conditions under which such burning was permitted—namely in the presence of person and within plowed breaks—but desired to be relieved from liability if after having taken all such precautions the fire escaped. Unless so relieved from liability the company could not afford to take the chances of burning fire guards.

A general discussion ensued, in which it was generally agreed that effectual fire guards on both sides of the railway tracks would be the best means of preventing fires from being started by the engines, but it was thought that the house would require some guarantee from the company as to its intentions before so far relaxing the necessary general provisions of the ordinance as applied to it. The matter was held over for further consideration.

FRIDAY, August 24.

Prince asked the executive committee why the ordinances of 1893 were not published in the French language, and what was the intention of the executive regarding them.

Haultain replied that they had not been printed because they had not been translated, and that as soon as they were translated they would be printed.

Prince asked the executive committee why no appointment had been made to replace Rev. Father Caron as an appointed member of the council of public instruction.

Haultain replied that negotiations as to such an appointment were now under way.

Haultain introduced a bill respecting the executive committee of the Territories.

Prince moved for an order of the house for a return of the minutes of the meeting of the council of public instruction held on June 9th '93.

The bill respecting the advertising of stray animals was read a third time.

A private bill to incorporate the parishes of the church of England diocese of Saskatchewan was read a second time.

A private bill to provide for aid being granted to the Wolseley and Fort Qu'Appelle railway company was read a second time.

Mowat's bill adding to the powers of butter and cheese manufacturing associations was read a second time.

On motion to consider the reply to the lieutenant governor's speech. Brett commented on the long delay in bringing forward the reply as being unusual and as being in some sense a slight upon His Honor.

Haultain replied that no slight was inteuded or conveyed and that the member for Banff who had been in his place in the house so very seldom this session was scarcely the proper person to criticise any laxity on the part of other members of the house in the discharge of their duties.

The bill was then read and passed.

The bill respecting local aid to the Wolseley and Fort Qu'Appelle railway was then considered in committe of the whole. The The bill is for the purpose of enabling the people of certain townships not included within any municipality to organize and tax themselves for the purpose of bonusing the railway.

Betts moved for a Saturday session, which was agreed to.

AS SEEN IN CHICAGO.

The Canadian-American, published in Chicago, U. S. A., says:—One of the very significant signs of the times is the attention that the Northwest Territories of Canada are attracting in this country among the home-seekers. A year or two ago several small parties of United States farmers were induced to visit the Edmonton district north of Calgary, a fine town at the foot of the Rockies, and the chief station on the Canadian Pacific railway west of Brandon. The visitors, who went on a thorough tour of inspection, brought back to the United States such reports of the resources of that part of the Dominion as to create a movement which, now in its infancy, bids fair to transfer thousands of American farmers to the plains and valleys of the Saskatchewan, where stock and wheat raising are said to be carried on under the best of conditions, not the least of which is a salubrious climate. At the present moment parties of American farmers are on their way to the Edmonton district from Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Michigan, the Indian Territory, Wisconsin, Washington, Idaho and Montana. The fever has spread; and now there is an industrial army pointed towards Canada to which our northern neighbors will undoubtedly extend a hearty welcome, petition or no petition. No country could wish for better men in its agricultural districts than these home-seekers from the Western States, who have been trained in a practical school, and who, knowing the vicissitudes of pioneer settlement, strike their stakes ready from the first to conquer. No wonder the Canadian Pacific railway and Dominion Government are doing their utmost to encourage immigration from the United States. The "overflow" from this country, which we have had in our mind's eye for half a decade has commenced in such a way as to make us anticipate in the near future a movement stupendous and irresistible in character—a change of base upon the Western farmers that will have a mighty influence in creating several new Provinces for the Dominion. Years ago in Ontario the cry was "On to Kansas," followed by trumpetings for Dakota, Iowa and Nebraska. Since then our West has been filled up. Cheap lands are no longer available as bait—and that tells the story. It is now Canada's turn.

GENERAL NEWS.

The steamer Northwest arrived here Monday noon. She will make one more trip to up river points before the season closes.—Prince Albert Advocate.

Seven families of settlers, with several hundred head of horses, came in from the south on Monday, they were from Washington, and all but one, who was making for Beaver Lake, north of Edmonton, were bound for the Red Deer country.—McLeod Gazette.

A collection of grain in the straw, corn and hay has been sent from Northern Alberta to Mr. L. A. Hamilton, C. P. R. land commissioner. It includes some fine specimens of wheat and barley and corn with well developed heads. Timothy grass fully four feet long, give one some idea of the richness of the soil, when this year's severe drought is considered.

The veteran, W. G. Grace, on August 9th completed his 1,000 runs in first class cricket. He is the first amateur to accomplish the performance this season, and the third cricketer, Brockwell and Abel having already secured this distinction. Brockwell has been asked to form one of Mr. A. E. Stoddart's team to visit Australia in the summer.

The Department of Agriculture have decided to acquaint the teachers in the schools of Manitoba and the North-West with the characteristics of the Russian thistle and other noxious weeds. They will therefore send copies of the pamphlet to teachers, and specimens of the thistle will be sent out wherever required, so that children may become thoroughly acquainted with these deadly enemies to agriculture.

L. A. Hamilton, land commissioner of the C. P. R., speaking of matters in his department this morning informed a Nor'-Wester reporter that the sales of farm land the past month had been very satisfactory, and were far beyond expectations in view of the general complaint as to hard times. Over 8,000 acres were disposed of the past month and this compares favorably with corresponding periods of previous years, except in phenomenal seasons.

OTTAWA, Aug. 17—Major Gen. Wyndham, a rancher near Calgary, left here for home last night. When in the city he had an interview with Hall, deputy minister of the interior. The general is on his way back from the old country, where he was lecturing on Canada. His object in doing so was to attract immigration to Canada. There is quite a number of the farmer class who decided to come to Canada as a result of Wyndham's lecturing tour.

REGINA, Aug. 24.—Michael Miskey, a well-known character around town, made two attempts to suicide to-day. He first tried to shoot himself by placing the barrel of a revolver in his mouth, but had not courage enough to pull the trigger. The revolver being taken from him he then purchased a bottle of strychnine and drank about three-quarters of it. He was found shortly after suffering all the agonies of poisoning. A physician who was called at once gave an antidote, which has prolonged his life to the present, with a good prospect of final recovery. He gives as a reason for the act that it is no use living if you cannot live in peace. He has had some trouble with his neighbors and had been drinking heavily of late.

Some time ago a man from Edmonton named Langley reported that he had lost the sum of $900 across the river, opposite the town. Very little more was heard of the matter until Tuesday, when an Indian, with a name full of hyphens, solicited Geo. Miljure, of the Prince Albert House, to change a $100 bill. Mr. Miljure instantly thought of the reported loss and reported the matter to Const. Robertson, who locked up the Indian. Statements made by him implicated three or four squaws and half-breeds in the settlement opposite the town; and in a couple of hours the mounted police had the whole gang behind the bars at the barracks. Interesting developments are looked for, whether the balance of the money is recovered or not. Mr. Miljure should certainly be rewarded for his honest and prompt action in the matter.—Prince Albert Advocate.

THE ARBITRATION.

The arbitration between the Town of Edmonton and David McDougall of Morley to determine the value of a lot for the completion of McDougall St. expropriated by the town was proceeded with on Tuesday afternoon last. The arbitrators met on Friday, took their oaths of office and elected Mr. S. S. Taylor, chairman of the arbitration. The case was then adjourned until Tuesday. The arbitrators are S. S. Taylor, Dr. H. C. Wilson and W. S. Edmiston. E. C. Emery is conducting the case for the town. J. C.F. Bown for Mr. McDougall.

In order that the case may be more clearly understood let us say that in the original survey of the town there is no continuation of McDougall St. (cornered by the Imperial bank and Gariepy's store on Jasper Ave.) south of Jasper Avenue. The town council proposed to extend the street and accordingly purchased the lot on Jasper Avenue, opposite McDougall St. from Mr. Hulbert for $1500. This is referrd to in the appended evidence as "Lot 1". Some correspondence between the town and McDougall resulted in a disagreement and the town appropriating McDougall's property between this lot 1 and the river bank, a lot 312x50. This parcel is colored pink on the surveyed map of the situation and is refered to as the "pink block" by witnesses. The property in the rear of the stores from the lot opposite the Imperial bank to Clarke & Daly's office on Jasper Avenue extending to the trail by the cliff is marked block X. The block adjoining the pink block and the lot bought from Hulbert is refered to as block A and is owned by M. McCauley. The following evidence was taken on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Emery, appearing for the municipality of the town of Edmonton opened the arbitration and fyled by-lay exhibit A, and tender to D. McDougall exhibit B. Letter from S. S. Taylor to the mayor, May 3rd 1893 Exhibit "C." Letter from A. G. Randall to S. S. Taylor May 4th 1893 Exhibit "D." S. S. & H. C. Taylor to town clerk Exhibit "E," also copy enclosed of S. S. Taylor to D. McDougall, May 13th 1893. Plan made by T. W. Chalmers D. L. S. dated 20th of August 1894 Exhibit "F."

Mathew M. McCauley sworn said. I am the mayor of Edmonton, I have resided here about 15 years. My experience with reference to real estate has been considerable. Values of property have changed very little. I have bought and sold several lots in Edmonton and consider myself qualified to form an opinion upon the values of real estate in Edmonton (Refers to Exhibit "C" "D" and "E,") Mr. Bown objects to "E" being read as evidence of McDougall's offer. Copy read as a copy of letter and enclosure in S. S. Taylor's letter only, not as evidence.

Question. In consequence of what was contained in these two letters, what did the town council do? What action did they take? Mr. Bown objects on the ground that Corporations, keeping minutes of their meetings can bring their minutes as evidence. Objection sustained. Plan produced marked Exhibt F upon which is a strip in pink (the appropriated property) and a part in yellow (the lot bought by the town).

Question. In your estimation, what would be the value of the block, inclusive of the red piece, marked X on the plan, if it had no outlet to Jasper Avenue?

A. About $1000.

Now take block X with a street open to Jasper Avenue and what is the value?

A. $2500.

Q. Is the increased value of block X more or less in value than the pink block taken alone.

A. More.

Q. How much more.

A. $1500.

Q. What would you value the pink part at if there was no road leading to Jasper Avenue.

A. About $200.

Q. What would you value the whole lot at if there was no road leading out of it.

A. $1000, because McDougall could then buy a right of way for $1500.

In answer to questions he said I own land to the west of the pink block. I gave 15x259 feet to the town as a part of the street to be made by the expropriation of the land in question.

Cross-examined by Mr. Bown he said. The town gave for lot 1 R. L. 8. $1500 from Mr. Hulbert. The supposition was at the time that he owned lot 2. By lot 1 being made a street, lot 2 would increase in value. By the extension of McDougall St. the west crrner would be increased in value on Jasper Ave. I do not think it would increase the value of the northerly corners on McDougall St. The opening of this street would be a general benefit to the whole town. I mean the people—and property.

Q. Your value of $1000 is based on being shut in. If on the supposition that a trail ran in front of it past J. Cameron's on to Jasper Ave. then this property having an outlet, what would its value be?

Mr. Emery objects because the plan shows no trail ahd has been accepted. Objection overuled.

A. $1200 or a little over $1000. It would make six or seven lots worth $200 each.

In answer to other questions he said, persons coming up Ross' grade would strike southerly portion of the pink block first. Block X would command a good view, was a good place for court house or hotel and is one of the nicest places in town. It is good for wholesale houses and would make a good garden. Lots 2 to 10 inclusive R. L. 8 are worth $2000 each, Rice St. lots $200 each and corners $20. Block, R. L. 6 has a frontage of 200 feet. It, with the trail in front, being a street would be worth $200 per foot. If the extension of McDougall St. was not opened, the traffic would follow the supposed trail already mentioned. I do not think that block X would be more consicious than block A ond there would be as much traffic by block A as block X. Lot 1 was purchased in the spring of 1894, about May. We would not have bought lot 1 without intending to make the pink block a street. If lot 1 was a street, block X and the pink block would have an outlet to Jasper Ave. If it had this additional outlet it would not increase the block X beyond $1200. With McDougall St. extended, 6 lots would be gotten on block X worth each $400. Lots facing on McDougall St. entension would be worth double what the lots would be worth on the supposed trail. The lots on the trail would not get as long and good lots. Lots in block A with the same frontage on McDougall St. would be worth $400 each. Lots on the supposed trail would be a back street.

Re-examined by Mr Emery. Notwithstanding that there might be a trail as supposed, still McDougall St. extension would increase block X by $1000. The increase of value to block X would be more than the value of the pink block, even under the assumed conditions re.trails and streets.

George F. R. Kirkpatrick sworn, being questioned by Mr. Emery said I am manager of the Imperial bank here. Have resided here exactly three years and have had transactions in Edmonton real estate and have had occasion to enquire into the value of town lots frequently in matters connected with my business as manager of the Imperial bank. Asked as to the value of the pink block and block X on the plan without any opening on to Jasper Avenue he said it would not be worth very much—say $200. It could only be used by parties owning Jasper Ave. lots. With a frontage on McDougall St. it would be worth $1500. Asked as to how he figured on thas he said I woub sub-divide it into 5 lots at $200 each and the corner lot would be worth $500. I would make the McDougall St. extension lots 100 feet deep. By making the pink block a street, block X would be more valuable. It would be worth more than the pink block by $1000 or more.

Cross-examined by Mr. Bown. Besides manager of the Imperial bank I am town treasurer. If the trail from Ross' grade to Cameron's exists as a street, I would value the lots at $1600. Jasper Ave. lots are worth $50 per foot. Rice St. lots $150 to $175 each. Block X sub-divided as last mentioned would be worth $50 per lot more than Rice St. lots or River lot 8. If McDougall St. was opened through lot 1 R. L. 8. I would value it $200 more than before. It would be worth, with the pink block $1800 to $2000. With McDougall St. extended through the pink block, block X, even with the supposed trail would be improved about $1000. Lots facing on McDougall St. are worth to block X $1000 more than without McDougall St. extension I bought property in Calgary and Toronto before coming here. I have had experience in valuing property for six or seven years. Block X with the supposed trail would not be worth as much for hotel or public buildings as it would without McDougall St. extension; but if lot 1 was a street it would be easy to get at and would be more valuable.

Re-examined by Mr. Emery. If lot 1 was a street then I think the taking of the pink block would increase the value of block X more than the value of the part taken. In sub-dividing I would divide facing McDougall St. and run a street along the bank, sub-dividing the east end. Lots facing on McDougall St. would be of more value then those fronting on the trail. I consider them considerably more valuable.

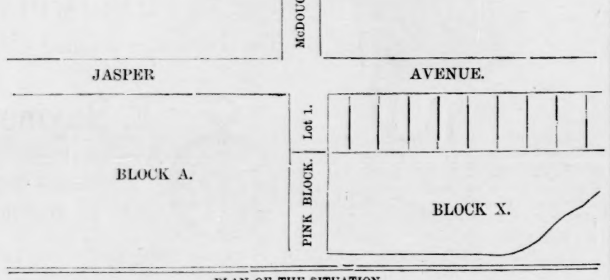

C. Gallagher sworn said. I am a merchant here three years; have been interested considerably in real estate. Block X and the pink block would be worth not more than $500. If McDougall St. was opened and there was no trail I value block H at $2500. With McDougall St. open and the trail open, the value is not increased. I think the value more without the trail. If the trail runs close to the bank as now explained I think the trail improves the block X and make it worth more than $2500. The opening of McDougall St. increases value of block X at least $1500 more than the land taken; but if the trail exists the increase value to block X over the land taken by the pink block would be $1000.

Cross-examined by Mr. Bown. With the trail opened and McDougall St. not opened, block X and the pink block are worth $2000 provided you could get 60 feet front on a continuation of Queen St. If lot 1 and the trail be streets, the value of the whole would be increased say $100. Jasper Ave. lots are worth $50 per foot. With McDougall St. open, the lot on the corner would be worth $500 to $700, the others $300 each. The jog of 10 feet to the east on Jasper Avenue detracts little; but only a trifle because it is a short street. I have taken all these things into consideration. Block X is high and dry. Faces the river, good drainage and view. Is A.1. Its a little back at the present. All traffic comes up the hill at this point. With the trail alone, the block could not be business property. A business street with one side is never considered good. I have had experience in this at Regina. With the trail and one lot open, the pink road and block X would not be a desirable hotel property. It would be better with McDougall St. extended. I undoubtedly think McDongall St. extension increases the value of block X upon this supposition.

Re-examined by Mr. Emery. When I valued pink block and block X at $2000 I required 40 feet frontage on Queen St. with 150 feet deep. If trail goes through the 40 feet lot on Queen St I would lessen my valuation.

The arbitration here adjourned until 8 p. m.
